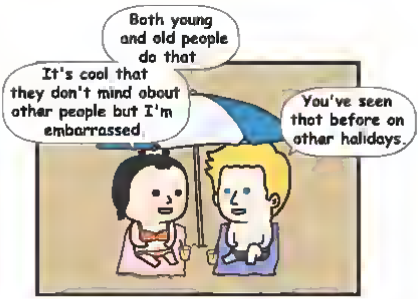
... I thought I would never do that in my life

Anyway

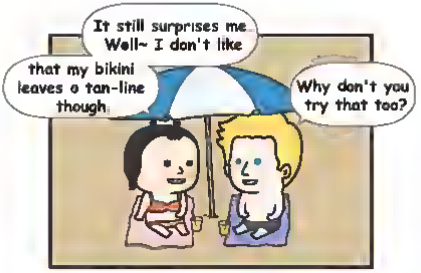
I won't explain any more

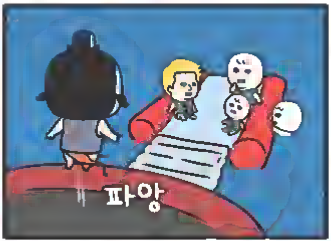
(Be careful with your swim suit )



Both young and old people do that
It's cool that they don't mind about other people but I'm embarrassed
You've seen that before on other holidays.

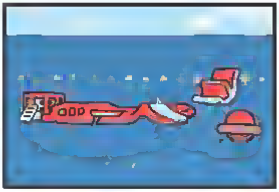
As I hadn't got used to this kind of culture,



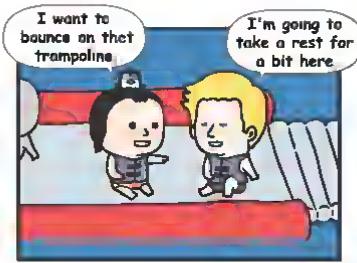


(Bounce)

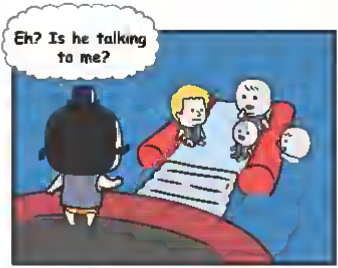
Playing water sports isn't a thing to miss when you're at the beach.



That day, we decided to play at the inflatables.



I decided to play on the trampoline that was opposite Mev.



While I was wandering
if he was really talking to me or not,
I bounced once again.

That was the ladies
who took their bikini top off

Really, Don't Let Your Guard Down.

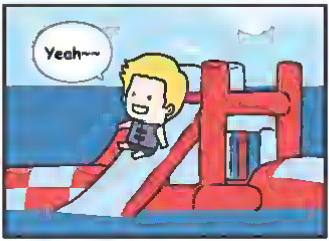
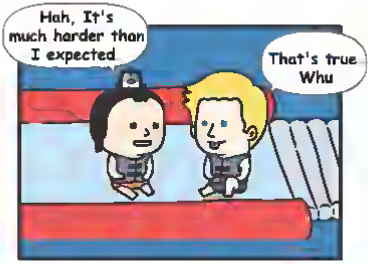
While we stayed at the island,
we spent a lot of time at the beach.



We climbed up the inflatables
and slid down and went through tunnels.



We love this kind of play
so we enjoyed our time.

Soft sand, burning sun and the calm sound of the waves...
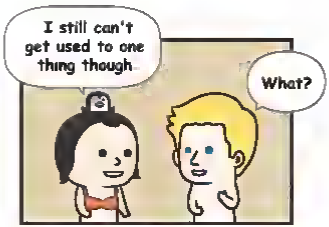
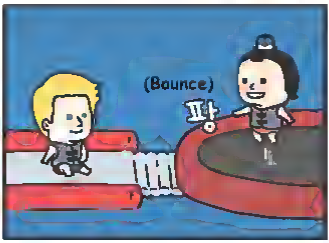
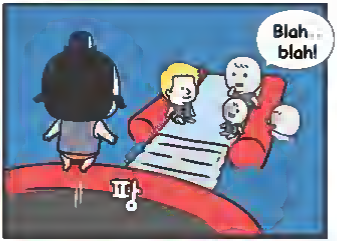
To feel peace was amazing.



However,
something was surprising me sometimes



After a little while....



I saw a man was talking something to me next to Mev.
